This is a side-scrolling shoot'em up with some really good visuals. The game seems to be quite packed with backgrounds, enemies and music requiring around 4 GB to install. Once you optimise your mouse sensitivity and realise that your ship has both primary and secondary weapons, the game is actually quite fun to play. It has 8 levels in total and apparently you can design your own levels and enemies (although I haven't tried the editor much).. This is a side-scrolling shoot'em

Enemies donu2019t scroll by, they stay around moving in a stupid way as more and more continue to appear since you probably canu2019t kill them fast enough. They all shoot at you at once, you can barely see what youu2019re doing, you die quickly while feeling like youu2019re not even playing. Everyone seems to be comparing this to classic arcade games like R-Type, but Iu2019m just not seeing it. Those games are too hard for my liking, but not because theyu2019re unplayable. As for the customization. they hugely advertise that you can change anything, even the default stuff. But if you import your own image, and try to change the animation properties to your liking, it will refuse to let you by saying itu2019s u201cprotectedu201d. Even if you attempt to make your own level from scratch, same thing will happen if you try to change the playeru2019s animation properties. So I unfortunately gave up on this.. horrible controls, bad level editor, i would only reccomend it to troll someone. The animations look really good but the gameplay is total crap.
